

Personal Advertisement

You're going to create an advertisement with you in it! That means that a picture of you has to be included somewhere in the ad. You may be the person selling a product, selling a service, running for office, or even selling yourself (in an appropriate way, of course!). You also might just be a person appearing in the ad as a model or actor, such as a movie advertisement. However you choose to build this ad, make sure it's creative!
